A number of articles of clothing for refugee children were brought in by the members and a lovely seaman's quilt is being sent down to the Navy League. It was decided to send a small donation to the W.I. Girl's Club.

Mrs. Wahl took up the afternoon's topic, giving us an interesting talk on "Dairying in Alberta" telling of the establishment of the first Co-op Creamery 20 years ago, and of its rapid growth to the present.

This Mrs. McNaughton told of her visit to the F.W.W. at the O.S.A., and by the time lunch was over the hands of the clock were alarmingly near chore time, and it is feared some of the men folk may have been looking for a supper that was not on the table.

Teynor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Teynor of Elkton. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen and roses by Rev. Cecil Moore of Calgary.

The bride entered the room, beautifully decorated with pink sweet peas and baby's breath, on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Grace Gole who was groomed in pink sheer. The bride looked lovely in a gown of white sheer and wore a veil in train, and carried a white Bible and rosary, presented to her by the Four-Square Sunday School of Fallen Timber. She was attended by her sister, Miss Velma Janzen, and Mrs. Wayne Roberts, who were both dressed in white sheer, wearing chapel veils and coronas of red roses.

Groomsmen were Mr. Stanley Teynor and Mr. George Teynor. During the signing of the register, Miss Jean Lamont, also groomed in white sheer, beautifully decorated the solo "At Dawning", accompanied by Miss Grace Gole.

DIDSBURY DAIRY CALF CLUB HOLDS ACHIEVEMENT DAY

First Prize Was Won
By Alice Bruce

(By Marjorie K. Stiles)

There were sixteen well fitted calves shown at the recent Didsbury Dairy Calf Club Achievement Day. There were eleven Holsteins, three Jerseys and three Ayrshires. The judge, George Gibb, Holstein breeder from Edmonton, said he was well pleased with the out-landish judging and grooming of the top prize winning calves. Judging is decided upon a fitness, showmanship and conformation of the animal basis.

The first prize was won by Alice Bruce. Mr. Gibb, in placing this award said, "This calf is well fitted, well groomed and it has a love to lead. The girl has shown it in the ring to advantage and this is an example of what we like to see in dairy calf club work."

Mr. Gibb said that Kenneth Bruce, who won second prize, had a better type of animal but it was not as well groomed for the show ring.

Maudie Webb won third with a Holstein. Marjorie Clarke won fourth prize with a Jersey heifer. "This animal would show nicely at a Fair, if it were in better condition," Mr. Gibb said. Fifth prize went to Jimmy Clarke; 6th to Bonnie Morris; 7th to Gary Gibb; 8th to John Parker.

The yearlings which the club members had shown as calves last year were then brought into the ring for their second prize. The prize with her Ayrshire: Gary Gibb second with a Holstein.

The two-year-old heifers were shown, this being their third time at Achievement day. Awards were placed as follows: First, Marjorie Clarke, with a Jersey Heifer; second, Marjorie Bruce, with an Ayrshire.

It is interesting to note, that in so class did the animal winning at a Fair, if it were in better condition, with the yearlings in the current competition, with the same animals in the class. Due to difference in developing and fitness were shown.

In the showmanship class Mr. Gibb called out the six boys and girls who had displayed their calves in the original class to best advantage. He then mixed them up so that each one was handling a strange calf. This was a real test of showmanship and one that had not previously been tried at Didsbury Achievement Day. Cloie Webb won first prize, handling the strange calf beautifully, the judge declared.

In the calf club herd, consisting of two year old, yearling and calf, first prize went to Jeanette Worrall (Ayrshire); second to Marjorie Clarke (Jersey); and third prize to Alice Bruce (Ayrshire). Prizes for this class were donated by Let. Law's Drug Store; 2nd, Lesson; and Son; 3rd, T. Morris, the club leader.

As the show rings were taxed beyond capacity during the afternoon it was necessary to postpone the annual judging competition, and this is to be held on August 8th at the home of James Brewster of Bowden, when the Bowden Calf Club have their achievement day to show off their twenty-five calves.

DEPT. OF PUBLIC WORKS APPROVES OF SOME GRANTS

$13,575 For Additional Gravel and Construction

The council of the Municipal District of Mountain View No. 49 met at Didsbury on Thursday, August 2nd, with all councillors present.

Two reports were received under the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act: three Old Age Pension applications were approved, and one new Old Age Pension application was dealt with. Two pound sales were also reported.

A grant of $150 was passed to each of the Didsbury and Olds Agricultural Societies, and $10 to the Sundre School Fair.

One tax consolidation application was approved.

A communication from the Department of Public Works was received approving of $4,525 in special grants towards the following graveling and road construction projects:

Bennett School north, $300.
Hammer School south, $300.
From C & E highway north of Olds north, $300.
Innis Lake road, $400.

West of Harnattan and 4 miles north and south, $900.
Near Waterloo School, $325.
Township line south of Township 31, $1200.

North of Sec. 11 & 12, and west of Sec. 11 & 2-12, $500.

Neapolis Cheese Factory road, $1000.

While these grants amount to only about half what the municipality had asked for, it means that a total of $13,575 will be spent on road graveling and construction, in addition to regular road work of the municipality this year, as the farmers have agreed to donate one third and the municipality a third, along with that approved by the Department of Public Works.

A report was received on the work of the weed inspectors and more cooperation on the part of the farmers is requested.

Passing of accounts and pay sheets completed the business of the meeting.

EXPENSIVE ADVERTISING

A few days ago an individual was in Didsbury reviewing the possibilities of issuing a telephone card of the district, with sponsored advertisements of local firms. He also had in mind a hotel card along similar lines.

Now we do not wish to discourage anyone from trying to make a living by the above means, but we do believe local business concerns and our town organizations should reap the benefit of any publicity scheme. In the first place the local printing office would not suffer, as we had been asked to do the printing on a prospective job, if we so desired. But our merchants and other business places would have paid heavily for this doubtful advertising.

If local firms ever consider advertising by the above mentioned method they could have a local organization take hold of the job, and keep the money in Didsbury. Or they could put out an advertising card for about one-quarter the expense by combining their efforts.

The Pioneer believes in protecting the interests of our town and its citizens and if the above information is any guide to future transactions, we pass it along without hesitation.

SOIL DRIFTING

(By H.G.L. Strange)

As summer draws to a close some summerfallow fields will be found to be black and free from trash. This means that in some areas there will be a serious danger of soil blowing during the fall and winter. Anything the farmer can do to protect his land will be valuable in helping to conserve the fertility contained in the top few inches.

The Dominion Experimental Station at Lethbridge have made many experiments to control soil drifting. They recommend that whenever a fallow is free from trash, and is in an area subject to soil drifting, a fairly deep ploughing with a mould board plough in the last part of July is decidedly helpful on medium texture soils. On heavy clay or sandlands, however, the station recommends listing instead of ploughing. A lister can be made out of a duckfoot cultivator by removing all the duck feet and by fitting to the cultivator lister shovels about five feet apart. Lister shovels can be purchased from the manufacturers of the cultivators. They are not expensive. To prevent loss from cutworms, all summerfallows should be left undisturbed through August and the first half of September, when the moths are laying eggs.

CEREAL CROPS FIELD DAY AT LACOMBE AUGUST 16

The annual Cereal Crops Field Day will be held at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alberta, on Thursday, August 16. The program will commence at 1:30 p.m. in the pavilion where visitors will assemble before starting on the tour of the fields. A number of new and interesting varieties of wheat, oats, barley and flax will be seen in the seed increase blocks and the variety test plots. As usual, a number of interesting speakers from other Experimental Stations and Institutions will take part in the discussions. Come early, bring your whole family and your lunch and picnic on the grounds. Hot water will be supplied for tea and coffee.

GROWING SMALL FRUITS

We are pleased and proud to announce the publication of a bulletin entitled "Growing Small Fruits in the Prairie Provinces." It is illustrated with a series of admirable photographs most of which are by courtesy of the Division of Horticulture, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The subject matter was written by Mr. W. R. Leslie, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Morden, Manitoba. It deals with recommended varieties, pests and diseases of strawberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries, etc. Tree fruits, such as apples, plums and cherries, are not included; but, we hope, be the subject of another bulletin to be published in the not too distant future.

Copies are available, free of charge, to farmers, and rural school teachers and pupils in the Prairie Provinces. They may be obtained through local Line Elevator agents, or from Line Elevator Farm Service, Winnipeg or Calgary.

A Correction

In our article, "Production Objectives," published on February 15th, we endeavored to summarize the figures released by the Dominion Department of Agriculture following the Dominion-Provincial Conference. Under "increases," we quoted "cattle, 8%; calves, 10%." One of our correspondents points out that these particular figures relate to increased production rather than to production. He thinks that "the owners of cattle are generally of the opinion that production has reached a level in the prairies, where difficulties could easily arise—if extensive drought should occur."

ONE OUNCE OF MEAT IS MONTH'S RATION IN FRANCE

While final details of meat rationing are in the making, the Prices Board urges housewives to save meat in their homes. Two meatless days a week must be observed at home if Canada is to help feed the Europeans, many of whom now live on less than 2000 calories a day compared to our 3,300 calories.

Returning men who have seen what hunger is are all in favour of Canada rationing meat to save Europe. Our allies no longer need our arms, but they do need our food, many of the boys say.

Count de Hauteclouque, France's first ambassador to Canada, declared in Calgary recently, "France's food problems are difficult to solve unless the Allies help us. In France there are coal miners like those at Blairmore. In a letter from France the other day I was informed they are receiving one ounce of meat a month."

War has hit the Dutch hard, too. Over nine million people, slightly less than Canada's population, are crowded into an area less than half the size of Alberta. Retreating Nazi soldiers stripped the industrial part of the country bare, and it will take years for Holland to re-establish her agriculture.

Peasants in the Balkans are gradually going back to the land, but relief shipments are still imperative while semi-starvation threatens in many areas.

Meatless days at home is a good way to start shipments flowing to the stricken countries which need our help.

The Royal Canadian Navy has expanded from 17 ships in 1939 to 939 ships in March 1945.

PULLED TEETH GROW AGAIN

Faulty teeth have been extracted and replaced to grow again by British surgeons of St. Mary's, the famous London hospital and birthplace of penicillin. This revolutionary treatment in dentistry has been successfully applied to abscesses and root infection. In one case, the tooth was extracted, the infected ends of the roots were cut off, the pulp canals filled, and the tooth replaced in the sockets, which had been treated with penicillin to receive them. Five months after the tooth had been replaced, bone had reformed around the roots. The tooth was so firm that it was made to carry a missing neighboring tooth on a bridge.

One Lesson Learned

World's Greatest Single Factor In Winning War, Says Eisenhower

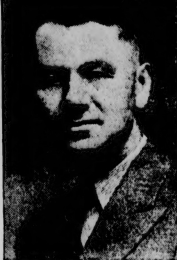

Charles Christian Wertheim, editor from Paris to tell of the afternoon on which Eisenhower set in his office at Frankfurt-am-Main and talked about some of the lessons he had learned from the war just won.

There was airpower, not used here, but airpower used in conjunction with land and seapower to get the greatest effect in destruction. With properly coordinated airpower you get greater opportunity for strategic surprise; and with strategic surprise you can bring a greater force to bear against an unprepared enemy. You also need machines and weapons and the men who fight wars—the ordinary soldier who does the dirty work; you need all this superior strength in the place you decide to strike it.

Eisenhower believes in peace time discipline because he believes that a wage a winning war you need superior strength in trained men. You can give a man physical toughness in three months; you can teach him to use weapons in a little more time; but to teach him to believe in the things he is fighting for, and to be willing to die for them, takes a longer time. After pointing out that the destruction of the enemy's will to fight and his power to resist is the ultimate objective, Eisenhower makes his point: "Morale is the greatest single factor in successful war."

GEORGE ALEXANDER HOWARD has been appointed general supervisor of apprentice training, Canadian National Railways. It was announced by E. R. Battley, superintendent of motive power and car equipment. He succeeds A. H. Williams, retired on pension after more than 26 years service.

Mr. Howard was born in England, October 20, 1902, and came to Canada in 1914. He began his apprenticeship in the C.N.R. Fort Rouge shops, Winnipeg, in 1920, and was a machinist from 1926 to 1930. At the beginning of the following year, he was appointed apprentice instructor at Fort Rouge, transferring to Transcona in 1936. He was promoted to supervisor of apprentices, Western Region, in 1939 and in 1943 was assigned to organize safety work on the western region as supervisor, accident prevention.

Mr. Howard has a wide knowledge of vocational and apprenticeship training, and has addressed such bodies as the local council of the Engineering Institute of Canada and the government sponsored industrial relations study groups. Especially interested in the field of visual education, he organized a winter series of technical film programs at the University of Manitoba, where for the past three years, outstanding engineering technical films have been shown at meetings of large groups of railway employees from all departments. As supervisor of apprentice training for the system, Mr. Howard will now make his headquarters in Montreal.

Weed Control

Eight-Year Rotation Plan Found To Reduce Weed Pest

An eight-year mixed farming rotation over a period of years on the Dominion Illustration Station farms in northern and eastern Manitoba has reduced wild oats, sowthistle, mustard, stinkweed, and other annual weeds to a point where they are no longer a menace. The sequence of crops in this rotation is—summer-fallow, grain, grain, hay pasture, and fallow, grain, grain. Pasturing for one year in eight is proving one of the most effective practices for weed control.

TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

INDUSTRIAL HEALTH

Industry is peculiarly well-placed to contribute to better adult health because of its organization in groups to whom incentive measures can be more readily applied, says Dr. J. G. Cunningham, Industrial Hygiene Director, Ontario Department of Health, in a report now being distributed to industrial firms by the Health League of Canada's Industrial Division.

The presence of the industrial physician and nurse in the factory focuses all efforts directed to the maintenance of health, whether originating inside the factory through the medical problems which present themselves in every plant, or through the employer's interest in his employees, or whether from outside the factory through the activities of official health agencies such as the federal or provincial departments of health or the Health League of Canada," Dr. Cunningham reports.

He outlines preventive tactics used in factory health programs and points out that experts connected with both federal and provincial departments are in a position to guide interested employers.

Dr. Cunningham also points out that waste in industry from preventable illness is perhaps 10 times as great as waste from major hazards in manufacturing which produce sickness and accidents.

Discussing the cost of health services to industrial employers, he says it may not be expected to exceed 5 per cent. of the cost of the manufactured product—or $5 to $10 a year on a per capita basis.

Copies of this report, which features the advice and opinions of such authorities as Maj. Gen. G. Brock Chisholm, Deputy Minister of National Health, and Dr. C. M. Hinkes, General Director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, and others, are available to Canadian industrial firms on request. There is no charge.

Jap Ethics

Peculiar Ideas Held By Japanese In Respect To Reality

As a boy in Japan I knew Prince Fumimaro Komei, who became Premier in 1937. One day an Irish setter, which had been sent me from England, disappeared. I suspected and accused young Komei of taking the dog. He made angry denials until proof was produced. Then he became apologetic, but when accused of falsehood took refuge in: "My mother told me to misstate to a foreigner is not to lie."

There is a sinister cynicism about the case with which fiction can be manufactured and generally accepted. Some years ago, the president of the Osaka bank made a handsome personal cleanup, unloading worthless bonds on his acquaintances. Tried and found guilty, he appeared. The higher court, realizing the people should be encouraged to trust financiers, not merely whitewashed but glorified him. By victimizing individuals he had avoided the temptation of working off the stuff on his own bank. Thus his innate loyalty to his employers was proved—Major Compton Pakenham in Newswreck.

Sergeant Was Kind

Gave Up Seat In First Class Coach To Tired Woman

The scene took place in a crowded railroad station in wartime England. An American sergeant was escorting an elderly woman to her train. She protestingly entered the compartment which he pointed out to her. Observers heard her say "This is First Class and I have a Third Class ticket." The sergeant firmly answered, "Well, just sit there until the conductor comes." The woman obeyed and the American remained standing in the corridor.

Later when the conductor entered the car, the still worried passenger started to open her purse. In a second, however, the sergeant appeared and said, "It's all right, conductor. I have a First Class seat, and she's sitting on it." The satisfied conductor continued on his way as appreciative smiles spread over the faces of the other passengers. The woman was heard to say that she was especially grateful for the thoughtful act as she had been up all night on Civil Defence duty.

Tree Fruit Prospect

Marked Reduction In Certain Fruits Is Indicated

According to an official report, the total production of tree-fruits in Canada this season will be much below normal. Despite excellent prospects in British Columbia, the poor crops in eastern Canada (the result of adverse weather during the critical period) have brought anticipated supplies to an unusually low level. The first estimate of the apple crop indicates a reduction from the very large crop of 1944 of 52 per cent., or 8,183,000 bushels compared with 16,570,000 bushels in 1944. The pear crop, estimated at 337,000 bushels is expected to be the smallest since 1935, and it is anticipated that plum and prune and peaches will show a reduction of 24 per cent. owing to the small crops in eastern Canada. Cherries, despite a large crop in British Columbia, will also show a decline. Unlike tree fruits, the small fruit crops are all above the 1944 level.

Will Be Adaptable

Jet Propulsion Seen As New Power Unit For Cars

Jet propulsion in the future will be adaptable to virtually all forms of transportation, it was declared by Hail L. Hibbard, vice-president and chief engineer of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Los Angeles, which is making the P-80 Shooting Star jet fighter plane.

"Gas turbine engine will be adaptable as power units for railway trains, buses, electric power generators and automobiles, which is making the future," he added.

SHORT STORY—

Last Straws

— By —
ESTELLE M. NELSON

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Seems like a woman's back must be stronger than a camel's, or it couldn't hold so many last straws without breaking," Mr. Perkins adjusted her specs to finish her son's rambling letter. Paying the milk man had interrupted, so she had handed it to Pa. But there was no response from her uncommunicative husband, hidden behind a gaudy Western Magazine.

"Just a month ago," mused Ma, "Betty and Bill left. Let's see. They were here six weeks before Bill got work. Before that, Jane and Eddie were here four months. Now, Phil and his wife coming home. Tom had for a college man like him to get fired. And times is bad—for him to be looking for a job in Wheeler's Garage. Well, his own home town is the place to come. And then buying their home. Too. Spose Tom Wheeler'll take him on as a salesman in his showroom, Pa?" Ma wiped a speck from her shining stove as Pa looked mildly over the top of his latest hearing. He was a little hard of hearing.

"Wouldn't be 's'prised," said Pa. Since being retired, his escape from the feminine world lay in reading back numbers of he-man pulps. He kept them in an orange crate and always used a bookmark. They were too precious to dog-ear.

Ma, returning to the interrupted letter, read parts aloud.

"Will be down Friday night. Going to look up Tom Wheeler about a job... everybody needs a change... even the beautiful country view grows tiresome... hope to take in a movie..." "Hm-m," mused Ma. Young folks today liked their sunsets in technicolor. Well, she could open her home to her son, poor as she was. She straightened her starched apron, smoothed back her grey hair. Gene chose all her hopes of a restful summer plan for simple trips to the end of the bus line with a bit of a picnic in the open fields, or down for a breath of the salty ocean.

Only two days remained to get ready, so Ma edited her sewing machine and made extra new curtains for the spare room. They would brighten the outlook for the young couple. When everything was shining, despite the July heat she set about baking egg pies and cakes to last a week. Eating was not out of the masculine world, any way. Pa thought she was overdoing. And more than likely, hoped Ma. Phil had found a bit and would help with the food bill. Her own budget for tea was pretty tight, their bank account sadly slim.

Friday came. Ma's dining room was cool, her round table carefully set. The lustrous window boxes had furnished a gay bowl of nasturtiums and one of purple petunias. Then came Phil's double ring, followed by his six foot self and his diminutive wife, both clad in slacks suits, both very brown from the country sun. Ma emerged from the Phil's embrace. Pa emerged from the sage brush of Mexico long enough to pump his wife's arm.

"Just as soon's we've it, you can run down to Tom Wheeler's. Set your suitcase in the corner. Phil?" Ma bustled into the kitchen, whisked back with platters of colorful salads. "I dropped in on the way down."

Nothing doing." Ma saw the light fade from his face, his lower lip protrude as it had when he was a small boy. He'd had clear sailing so long. Maybe in a couple of weeks—I might have done better in the city." He sat down opposite Pa's rocker.

Ma laid the rolls on the table, patted his broad shoulder. "Never mind, son. I'm right glad to have you and you're welcome to stay as long as you want." But they were only mechanical words of comfort. Phil was too independent, and it was up to Ma to change his point of view. Why they might be here for months, with jobs as scarce.

With desperate calm she took his brown hand. "It ain't that I'm trying to run your affairs, Phil, but I do think you'd best take any job you can get." His only answer was a puzzled stare. Ma so seldom interferred, but she knew she had gone too far when Phil wheeled about and spoke to Pa. Well, he was entitled to some attention.

"Got something real exciting," Phil had been watching the absorbed old man for some time. "Till say you have," he commented as, after a casual perusal, he laid the magazine on the buffet. "Almost time to eat, Pa," he said. "But before we dig in, I want to set you straight. Ma, there's one page of my letter you missed reading."

She interrupted, flushing. "Non-sense, I know it by heart!" "I hate to contradict, Ma, but if you hadn't missed that one page, you'd know I was still working and that the job I want is a two-toned green spots model. I'm turning in the old black. Also, you'd be all excited about going back to the country with us Monday night. I brought our big suitcase. Yours don't hold enough for a six weeks' visit."

Joy and bewilderment mingled on Ma's face as she said, "Then I must have dropped one page in the wood box and Pa burned it. 'Course, he read it first, but Pa ain't much for talking."

Phil grinned. "When you handed the letter over to Pa, he copped the most important page for a bookmark." Reaching for Pa's magazine, Phil removed a neatly folded sheet of newspaper.

"That old millman for interrupting when he did," said Ma.

Dogs For Canada

Sixteen Pet Dogs Shipped From England For Various Homes Here

Described as the largest shipment of its kind for some years, sixteen pet dogs, of various breeds, have arrived at Halifax, from Liverpool. During the voyage the dogs were under the care of the ship's butcher and members of the crew took turns in exercising the animals.

The dogs were bound for new homes in various points in Canada and in Stamford, Conn., and Brooklyn, N.Y., in the United States. On the overland part of their journey, they are in care of the express department of the Canadian National Railway.

Two Welsh Terriers are consigned to Stamford, Conn., and a cross-breed to Brooklyn. A retriever is going to Hamilton, Ont., a dachshund to Kitchener, Ont., a spaniel to Saint St. Marie, Ont., an alaskan and two spaniels to Toronto. A Welsh corgi, a rare breed, is consigned to Vancouver, while a retriever will find a new home in Winnipeg, a fox terrier to Sessmith, Alta., and an army setter in Champaign, Ont. A spaniel and a spaniel are bound for addresses in Westmount, Que.

PRAGUE NEWSPAPERS

Prague's 10 newspapers started publication recently as single small, size sheets. The paper conservation measure will be necessary for some weeks because no newspaper is being imported. No newspaper is owned by an individual. The owner must be a political party or organization, or a clearly defined interest which is nationwide in scope. Four of the 10 papers represent political parties.

WILL LAST FOREVER

A manufacturing firm in Glasgow plans to put on sale after the war spun glass lighter wicks which will last forever. They are being manufactured now but all supplies are going to troops in the Far East and to the navy.

A little of this, a little of that: At Simon, Ont. "Army" Amvantage playing bridge with Maurice Scharr, D. Austin and W. A. Smith picked up a perfect no trump hand, with ace, king, queen of each suit with the jack of diamonds extra. . . . At Smith Falls, Ont., secretary Harry Barker of the Rotary club completes 12 years with a perfect attendance record. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Elgie of the Square Deal district in Alberta were driving in to Hanna when the steering gear on the car broke; to add to the distress the stork presented Mrs. Elgie with a bouncing baby girl at the same time, but both are doing fine although they were stranded for a while. . . . Dauphin, Man., Herald gives tribute to the pair of enumerators who while out enrolling voters went to back doors, so as not to track mud over housewives' clean front steps and hall. At Gormley, Ont., 26-months Dean Dempster fell into a 35-foot unlined well. 12-year-old Frank Gossel went down via projecting bricks on the inside of the well, and brought her up when neighbors let down a rope, and what a hero he is. . . .

• Post-war activity: At Drumheller, Alta., the flour mill was being converted into a brick factory, with machinery now being unloaded coming from Holland, Michigan. They already have a lot of orders before the plant is in operation. • Realism for the post-war: City council at Port Alberni, B.C., care will be exercised in granting new business licenses, having in mind requirements of returned men, also getting co-operation of all local organizations for preparation of an authentic list of business opportunities to be made available to returned men. • The town of Cabri, Sask., (pop. 420) has a new Board of Trade, probably the only one with actual working lady members. They have started a tree planting program, building a kiddies playground, planning a memorial skating rink, and other innovations.

• The Shawinigan (Que.) Standard shakes a finger with this thoughtful observation: "What we need, then, is not more facts but more conviction. More disclosure of graft and corruption will get us nowhere, unless we have more honest people. Some sit up and view with alarm our 'swing to the left.' But our need is for more people who will wake up and stand out for what is right. And for more people who will courageously take upon themselves that full personal responsibility which is democracy's only answer to totalitarianism."

• Lucky or unlucky, Friday the 13th April was the day Japs held at Tachme, B.C., had to decide whether to accept repatriation to Japan or accept domicile east of the Rockies. The Chilliwack Progress hears it said that 70 per cent. had signified their intention of returning to Japan. Maybe they've changed their minds since May 8.

• What about the franchise for 18-year-olds? The Wolfville (N.S.) Acadia discusses suffrage and has this to say in part: "One reason advanced for the granting of the right to vote at an earlier age is that young people today possess knowledge equal to those who in other days were much older. In answer to this it might be said that wisdom rather than knowledge is the important factor in qualifying one to vote, and this is best gained by experience."

Thousands of Canada's Fighting Men Are Staying in Britain

The rather startling disclosure is made that more than 20,000 members of Canada's armed forces have decided to remain in Britain. This estimate is made by F. C. Phipps, organizing secretary of the Canadian Branch of the British Legion in London. The number is seven times greater than the number of Canadians who decided to settle in Britain after the first World War.

Discussing the subject of the 20,000 Canadians who will "stay on" in Britain, the Globe and Mail ventures the view that most of them have decided to remain "for no other reason than a love of Britain." That is as good a reason as any, and when it is considered, it may not be far from being the right one.

It is probable that many of the 20,000 are men who have spent the last three, four or five years of their lives mostly in England. Five, four and even three years is a large slice of the life of a young man in his twenties as most of the servicemen are. It may be that they have become so used to the English way of life that they have decided to stick with it. And there is probably a woman in the background in numerous cases. Ottawa Citizen.

THREE AWARDS AT ONCE—

Three awards, the highest number ever presented to a single Canadian, were at one time won by P. L. Leat, George (Buz) Boerling of Verdun, Que., was decorated, were handed by the King, on July 3, to Wing Com. Geoffrey Northcott, 25, of Minnedosa, Man. The fighter was received the Distinguished Service Order and the Distinguished Flying Cross and bar.

Wing Com. Northcott won the D.F.C. in August, 1943, after flying 55 operations as a Spitfire pilot, and the bar to the D.F.C. came three months later. The D.S.O. he received for "outstanding actions over the Normandy beaches" during the invasion of France. Northcott is 25 and a wartime volunteer known in the air force as an expert in attacks on shipping.

Wheat Exports

Expect That Carry-Over Will Again Show Moderate Increase

Canada and the United States, as the two major wheat exporting countries, meet Europe and with a surplus of wheat, are now moving this broad grain overseas as rapidly as transportation and port capacity will permit. Six weeks before the end of the 1944-45 crop year on July 31, 1945, Canada had exported nearly 28 million bushels of wheat and wheat flour. Seeing that the Canadian wheat surplus available for export or carry-over during the current crop year was about 650 million bushels, it now appears, states the Monthly Review of the Wheat Situation, that year-end stocks will be between 250 and 300 million bushels.

A carry-over of this size would be moderately below the 350 million bushels of old wheat on hand at July 31 a year ago, and the lowest since 1929. The reduced carry-over in Canada may be largely offset by increased stocks in the United States which are expected to range from 350 to 375 million bushels, as compared with 310 million bushels at July 1, 1944. In view of the favourable prospects of the United States harvesting an other billion bushel wheat crop in 1945, it is now expected that the carry-over of old wheat at July 1, 1946 will again exhibit a moderate increase, despite large-scale exports and continued heavy domestic use. The carry-over of old wheat in Canada in mid-summer of 1946, on the other hand, is likely to be still further reduced in the light of smaller planting this spring and the present heavy export program which is scheduled to extend into the new crop year.

APPROPRIATE NAME

Junco, a small town in Texas, got its name from the fact the town's only bartender, back in 1885, served only near beer and always answered "You know" when people asked him what he had to drink. Natives pronounced it "Junknow" and when application was made for a post office the name ju-know, now spelled Junco, was sent in. 2630

Sleepers and Diners in "Home from the War" Specials

RESERVED FOR HEROES: Nobody looking at the smiles that wouldn't come off on those soldiers dining in a chicken dinner on a Canadian Pacific Railway diner or watching the reunion of this airman with the two-and-a-half-year-old son he had seen only as a new-born infant could complain about the switch-over of sleeping and dining cars from ordinary travel to speed the return of active service personnel from the war. In the two-day period when these pictures were taken (June 16-17), there were 2,000 servicemen handled through Montreal on seven C.P.R. trains.
